All-Europe Atomic Talks Sought by Reds

West Plan Is Scored As Divider

6-Nation Market Setup Would End

Moscow, March 16 (AP)—The Soviet Union today assailed the movement for economic and atomic unity now underway in Western Europe, and called instead for an all-European conference on economic and atomic energy problems.

The Soviet government described the six-nation common market plan and the West European plan for cooperation in the peaceful uses of atomic energy (EURATOM) as "an attempt to deepen the divisions between East and West."

Forsees Barriers

The Kremlin also maintained these plans "will create new barriers to the restoration of unity to Germany, since West Germany will become more deeply involved with the Atlantic Pact nations."

West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg are to ratify the Common Market and EURATOM treaties March 25, probably in Rome.

Belgium's Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak, a leading advocate of these measures for European unity, announced complete agreement by ministers of the six nations a week ago.

Treaty Provides Pool

The EURATOM treaty provides for a pool of atomic knowledge, nuclear raw material and installations to produce atomic power.

The Common Market treaty provides in principle for the complete opening of each of the six participating countries to products of the other participants duty free for 15 to 17 years. During this period quantitative restrictions and other protective measures also would be abolished.

Asks Four Steps

The Kremlin wants the Western European countries to drop their plans and enter an all-European conference which would consider:

1. A system of cooperation in the construction of large hydroelectric power schemes.
2. Cooperation in developing fuel energy reserves to support the industries and to correct any fuel imbalance between them.
3. Measures for improving trade between all European states.
4. Plans for rendering mutual economic and financial aid.

The Soviet Union also proposed the establishment of an all-European scientific research institute on atomic energy and institutions for the production of atomic energy for industrial and technical purposes.

Mum On Expansion

Reporters sought to determine if Russia would be willing to enter an expanded all-European common market. The foreign ministry declined to be drawn out on the point.

Thus, in exchange for the six-nation scheme completion, the

Boom Slows Down In 4 Key Fields During the Week

New York, March 16 (AP)—The boom lost a little more of its zip this week. You could see the signs most clearly in four key fields—steel, autos, retail trade and housing.

Except possibly for housing, the symptoms were pretty mild. A few steel furnaces were shut down, but nobody was laid off. A Detroit trade journal said auto dealers, after a good month in February, had returned to the practice of granting discounts. Department store sales for the week ended March 9 trailed year-ago business by 10 per cent. Retailers said part—but by no means all—of the decline was due to last year's earlier Easter. At this time last year Easter was only a few weeks away.

Sees Controls Danger
Home builders for some time now have been complaining bitterly about the government's "tight money" policy. This week, at congressional hearings in Washington, they really let down their hair.

George S. Goodyear, appearing for the National Assn. of Home Builders, said the shortage of funds for mortgage lending has throttled home building to a point where it threatens to hurt the whole economy. Said Goodyear: "We are now in immediate danger of being controlled to death."

William J. Levitt, the nation's largest home builder, told congressional investigators: "I am no longer predicting a depression in home building. I'm saying that we're in a depression right now."

Underscoring these comments, the government reported that builders started work on 17 per cent fewer homes in February than in the same month last year. Building usually picks up

Gotham Turns Green Today For St. Patrick's Day Parade

New York, March 16 (AP)—New York turns green today and everyone is Irish. For this is it: The big St. Patrick's Day parade up emerald-striped Fifth avenue.

Kelly, Kohn, Kosciuszko or Kirsch, what does it matter? Stick an "O" in front of them and they all spell fun and music and general good fellowship.

The big procession—featuring bands, pipers, shamrocks, jigs, green flags and pretty colleens—starts at 44th street at noon and goes north to 96th street.

Francis Cardinal Spellman will review the festivities from the steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral. Robert Briscoe, the Jewish lord mayor of Dublin, will be in the official reviewing stand with Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

When the two met yesterday, Wagner told Briscoe: "As mayor of the world's largest Irish city,

Ulster's Hail Quota Still Short

Ulster county is still short of its quota of $33,000 in the area hail prevention program but is "making progress," it was reported today by Vincent Ligotino of Clintondale, acting chairman of the Ulster county fund drive of the Hudson Valley Crop Cooperative Services, Inc.

Mr. Ligotino said the directors of the cooperative met Friday night at the State Experimental Laboratory, Poughkeepsie.

Pledges Improve

Reports indicated that much interest had been manifested by area farmers in the project and that pledges had "improved some."

Ulster county still needs a considerable part of the quota, however. Exact figures on the amount pledged to date were not available this morning. Last Monday it was announced that approximately $10,000 had been pledged.

Deadline Extended

The deadline has been extended from March 15 to March 20. Total cost of the program will be $68,000. Other county quotas are as follows: Greene, $2,000; Orange, $5,700; Dutchess, $12,000; and Columbia, $16,000.

If the drive is successful this will be the second year of the program set up by the cooperative for the purpose of organizing the hail prevention measure.

The program will be in charge of the Weather Modification Company of San Jose, Calif., and will begin May 15, continuing until Oct. 15. Two additional months have been added to the program this year.

Brick Is Thrown Through Window Of Restaurant

A brick thrown through a Greenkill avenue restaurant and three incidents of malicious mischief involving BB guns and a shovel were reported to police last night.

Police received a call at 9:26 p. m. from William Leach, owner of the Greenkill Restaurant, 41 Greenkill avenue, who reported someone had just thrown a brick through a window from an automobile, damaging a booth and a beverage sign. A venetian blind also was knocked down, he said.

Wife Near Window

Mr. Leach said his wife, who was sitting near the window at the time, narrowly escaped injury.

Anastasia Kitsof, of 401 East Chester street, reported at 9:13 p. m. that while driving her car on Clinton avenue, between Pine and Oak streets, some boys shot at her car with BB guns and cracked the left front door glass.

Another incident involving a BB gun was reported at 9:22 p. m.

William Zwick, of 146 Franklin street, told police that someone

Awards to Mark Best TV Shows

Hollywood, March 16 (AP)—Television hands out its annual Emmy awards tonight in a 90-minute colorcast studied with the industry's biggest stars.

A nationwide audience will watch the proceedings from Hollywood and New York as outstanding performers, programs, writers and technicians are presented with the Emmy statuette, symbol of television's highest honor.

It is the ninth year for the awards and the first time in color. The program, beginning at 9 p. m. EST over the NBC network, also will be telecast in black and white. Pacific Coast audiences will see a filmed version of the show at 9 p. m. EST. In Hollywood, Desi Arnaz, the Latin husband of "I Love Lucy," acts as master of ceremonies. Phil Silvers, "Con Man" extraordinary of the "Sgt. Bilko" show, oversees the New York presentations.

The Academy of Television Arts and Sciences plans to present other stars including Ernie Kovacs, Jimmy Durante, Danny Thomas, Nat King Cole, Peggy Lee and Julie London.

Britain Facing More Shutdowns

200,000 Men Quit Shipyards; Gravest Crisis Is Seen Since Strike of 1926

London, March 16 (AP)—British shipyard workers struck today in the first of a series of scheduled industrial walkouts that could idle nearly three million workers within a week and cripple the nation's major industries.

The gravest industrial crisis since the general strike of 1926 confronted the country whose postwar full employment already has been dealt a severe blow by blockage of the Suez Canal.

New Attack Directed at High Budget

Washington, March 16 (AP)—An economy-in-government wave surged higher in Congress today with fresh attacks on President Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget.

Rep. Simpson of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, joined the budget critics with a statement in Fairmont, W. Va., last night that "right now the American people are stunned over the size of future spending."

Up to Congress

"Congress might as well face the fact that there is more animosity today over the size of the federal budget than in any peacetime year in recent history," Simpson said.

Simpson said the people are looking to Congress—rather than to Eisenhower—to cut expenditures. Eisenhower has said he is willing to reexamine his budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1. But he has insisted that Congress will have to whittle down or abandon some programs it

Esopus School Vote Set

Qualified voters of Consolidated School District No. 1 of the town of Esopus will vote next Thursday on the sale of sites and property of former School Districts 1, 12, 13 and 15, it was announced today by J. Wilson Tinney, district clerk.

The vote will be held in the Town of Esopus Auditorium at 7:30 p. m.

Residents of the district will vote on the following questions: "Shall the district authorize the trustees to sell and dispose of the former sites and property and the buildings thereon and appurtenances thereof of the former School Districts Nos. 1, 12, 13 and 15 of the said town of Esopus at such price and upon such terms as they shall deem proper."

"If such sale is authorized, to direct the manner and purposes for which the proceeds thereof shall be applied in accordance with the education law of the state of New York."

"To take such other action which may be incidental or necessary to carry out the general intent and purpose of the meeting and any action or authorization directed thereby."

The Democrats have renominated three incumbents—Mayor Eugene Glusker and Trustees Cyrus DePuy and William M. Eckert.

Candidates on the Republican ticket will be Wesley Whittaker for mayor and Erwin Alward and Jerome Elkin for trustees.

Red Cross Drive Nears Half Mark

Early response to the Red Cross campaign for members and funds is most encouraging, and with $14,176 of the $37,000 goal received indicates the awareness on the part of the city and county to keep Red Cross services on the job, Francis X. Tucker, chairman, announced today.

Volunteer workers are making a house to house canvass in the city and county during the month of March in accordance with the approved national fund raising policy and program which specifically provides this solicitation period for the American National Red Cross.

"The need for continuing support of imperative Red Cross services continues," Mr. Tucker added. "The past year has been a busy and costly one. Disaster expenditures of the national organization were the highest in 75 years and for several months the organization was engaged in extensive relief operations on behalf of the people of Hungary."

The Red Cross must always be kept ready to assume its responsibilities to victims of disaster, to the armed forces, to veterans, and their families, as well as through its safety services, community and international services.

Mr. Tucker expressed confidence that the goal of $37,000 in Ulster county would be reached and urged all to contribute as generously as possible.

Mid-East Inquiry To Begin

Washington, March 16 (AP)—Two special Senate committees are preparing to launch inquiries next week into American Middle East policies and the Eisenhower administration's foreign aid program.

And Secretary of State Dulles is scheduled to appear Monday afternoon at a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He will brief members on the recent Southeast Asia treaty (SEATO) conference and the forthcoming Anglo-American talks in Bermuda. Dulles is due back from the SEATO meeting tomorrow.

Draws Interest

But there was more congressional interest in the appearance Monday of C. D. Jackson, former special assistant to President Eisenhower, before a special subcommittee headed by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.).

Jackson has agreed to elaborate on a speech he made in Toronto several days ago concerning the administration's decision to withdraw its offer to help Egypt build the Aswan Dam. Announcement of this decision last summer was followed immediately by Egyptian seizure of the Suez Canal.

Challenges Reports

The Fulbright subcommittee, made up of six members drawn from the foreign relations and armed services committees, will chart a study by the two parent committees of U. S. Middle East policies dating back to January 1946.

Jackson, now editorial vice president of Time, Inc., has challenged reports quoting him as saying the United States touched off the Middle East dispute to force a showdown with Russia. "All I said was that the United States had been looking for a

Probers to Give Beck 24 Hours To Produce Files

Washington, March 16 (AP)—Senate rackets probes indicated today they have fixed a 24-hour deadline for Dave Beck, Teamsters Union president, to comply with a demand for his 1949-55 personal financial records.

With the hearings in recess until Tuesday, committee sources said they intend to subpoena Beck's records unless the Teamsters chief quickly gives them to the committee voluntarily. A similar request for Beck's records went out nearly a month ago.

Fund Use Alleged

There have been allegations that union funds were used to pay some of Beck's personal expenses.

In Seattle, Beck said yesterday he hadn't received the committee's new request yet, adding: "I am not taking a position on this until I see what the committee wants and can consult with my attorneys."

Up to Lawyers

Beck said that if his lawyers want him to turn over the records "I will do it in a minute." He said "that depends on whether attorneys believe my rights are being infringed upon."

The special committee was set up to probe alleged racketeering in both labor and business. So far its hearings have dealt with an alleged plot by west coast Teamsters officials to take over rackets in Portland, Ore.

Late in yesterday's hearing the committee produced several checks amounting to more than $14,000 and said the Teamsters money went to Nathan W. Shefferman, Chicago Labor Relations consultant to employers. The committee said he once served in that capacity for Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Paid for Speeches

The checks were signed in 1951 and 1952 by Beck and by

Economist Defends Single Milk Marketing Order

New York, March 16 (AP)—A Syracuse, N. Y., economist says his proposals for inclusion of northern New Jersey counties with New York in a single milk marketing order would induce dairymen "to improve the evenness of their production."

Dorris Brown, under cross-examination yesterday at the 92nd session of a U. S. Department of Agriculture hearing, denied his proposals would "pressure" dairy farmers to change methods of production.

Brown said that under his plan, "with a new base rating program as an incentive," some farmers would find it "more profitable" to better space their production.

He noted that more milk is usually produced in the March-June season than at other times. Brown was cross-examined by Archie Wright of Ogdensburg, N. Y., spokesman for the 3,000-member farmers union of the

Informants Doubt Any Gaza Move

MPs Take Over From UNEF Units

Cairo, March 16 (AP)—Reliable informants said today 600 to 700 Egyptian army reconnaissance and military police moved into El' Arish yesterday to take over defense of that area from the United Nations Emergency Force (UNEF). El' Arish is 25 miles west of the border of the Gaza Strip.

The informants—who are in a position to know—said they doubted the Egyptians at this time would move units on into the Gaza Strip. The newspaper Al Gumhuriya said earlier that Egyptian troops would occupy two points in the Strip, today.

Call It Necessary

Egyptian liaison officers have informed UNEF that it is necessary to station units in El' Arish since the Egyptians are now taking over defense of that coastal area on the Sinai Peninsula.

El' Arish was a vital Egyptian defense point before the Israeli attack last October. The Israelis occupied the area in early November, however, and before withdrawing demolished practically all the installations there and left the area practically isolated from the rest of Egypt. Withdrawing Israelis destroyed roads, telephone lines, wells and army buildings in the area.

May Restrict UNEF

In Gaza, an Egyptian spokesman said agreement had been reached "in principle" on the function of UN troops in the strip. There was no elaboration, but the indication seemed to be that UNEF would be restricted to positions along the Gaza-Israeli border.

Al Gumhuriya's account said Egyptian troops would move into the edge of the strip "to restore the state of affairs existing before the Israeli aggression."

The newspaper said Egyptian forces would occupy Rafah and Zumeina, two points just inside the strip.

No Previous Indication

There previously had been no official indication Egypt would take military forces into the strip along with the new administration.

Officials of Egypt's Palestine department said they had no information regarding the movement of troops into Gaza.

Al Gumhuriya quoted a "responsible source" in Gaza that UN Emergency Force (UNEF) troops would withdraw completely from the Gaza city area and take up positions along the armistice lines within 48 hours.

Israel Alarmed

Israel expressed alarm over the speedy return of Egyptian control in the disputed territory, which Israeli forces reluctantly evacuated only a week ago under strong UN and U. S. pressure.

Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir was en route to the United States for urgent talks with Secretary of State Dulles and UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld. She called the situation in Gaza "extremely disturbing" and said her main purpose was to "contact the American government."

Good Taste Today

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

A THOUGHTFUL GESTURE

A young woman writes me as follows: "My employer mentioned that he and Mrs. Employer are soon to celebrate their wedding anniversary and the three girls in his office would like very much to send Mrs. Employer a few flowers, but we're not sure whether we would be overstepping the bounds of propriety. We know his wife only slightly but she has always been very friendly to us when she came into the office."

I am sure both of them will appreciate your thoughtfulness and not consider that you have acted improperly if you send flowers to both Mr. and Mrs. Employer with the congratulations and good wishes of his office staff.

Acknowledging Wedding Telegrams

Dear Mrs. Post: I have just received many telegrams of good wishes. I would like to know if it is necessary to acknowledge these messages. Please advise me as I want to do the right thing.

Answer: It is polite to do so. You certainly should answer special ones, such as those from people who live at great distances and whom you are not likely to see. Those whom you are sure to see, you can thank verbally.

Applying for a Job

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to apply for a job soon and I would like to know the right way to introduce myself to a prospective employer? Should I sit down or shake hands, or what?

Answer: If he wrote you making an appointment you say, "I am John Jones and I've come in answer to your letter." Otherwise you simply say, "I've come to see about the job you've advertised." "If he offers his hand you take it, of course, but otherwise you stand until he motions to you to sit down."

Type and color of stationery for social use is described in booklet No. 502, "The Etiquette of Letter Writing." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Girls Interviewed To Begin Scoring In Beauty Contest

Judges for the Miss Kingston beauty contest scheduled Monday have interviewed the 10 contestants in preparation for voting by use of the point system.

The contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held at 8 p. m. in Kingston High School Auditorium.

Miss Kingston will automatically become an entrant in the Miss New York state pageant to be held at Schenectady next month. The state queen will go to the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City in September.

Personal interviews with the contestants here prepared the judges to score their ballots for intellect and personality, two of the qualities on which the entrants will be graded, according to John E. Finch, chairman of the judging committee.

When they appear at the high school the girls will be marked for appearance in evening gowns, swim suits and talent presentations, he said.

Using a point system, five for each first place vote, four for second, three for third, two for fourth, and one for fifth, the girl with the highest point total at the conclusion of the pageant will be crowned Miss Kingston.

Robert Norman, program director of radio station WKNY, will act as master of ceremonies. Malcolm Hammond, chairman of the staging committee said that an entertaining evening has been planned.

Shandaken Seeks Support to Halt Channel 6 Change

Shandaken Town Board passed a resolution at a recent meeting to seek the support of the U. S. Senators of New York State to keep the Schenectady television station WRGB on channel 6.

It was recently announced that the Federal Communications Commission was planning to transfer the Schenectady TV station to UHF.

Letters were sent to Senators Irving Ives and Jacob Javits asking them to use their influence in the matter.

The resolution cites that approximately 75 per cent of the TV owners in the township would be cut off from reception as channel 6 is the only one received by these residents.

The divorce was granted by W. L. Thornton who pointed out that "Mrs. Mansfield is a very attractive woman."

A THIRST TO KNOW

It cannot be stated too often, and especially to youth, that success in living will call for increasing knowledge in the future. The new world which is coming into being is the product of much knowledge and of the application of that knowledge.

With automation unskippable and, in fact, already upon us, unskilled work will become less and less necessary. Skill in the future will be essential and paramount for the individual and for the preservation and continuing development of our society.

The thirst for knowledge and development is now felt all over the world. In 25 to 50 years, the level of knowledge all over the world, including countries now described as backward, will be raised significantly from what it now is. In order to maintain itself, America will have to keep pace in intellectual and scientific development.

We must keep these possibilities constantly in mind. If we do not, if we fail to keep pace, we can guarantee our decline. One of the challenges of our time is the great challenge of knowledge.

SUN, SAND AND TAXES

A Miami Beach hotel, in an advertisement aimed at luring businessmen southward, said "the reconditioning of executives is a tax-deductible expense. The word 'reconditioning' stirred Congress, which in turn stirred the Internal Revenue Service. Said the bureau:

Vacation or athletic club expenses run up in the process of keeping fit are not deductible, even though they may help a man's general health.

That doesn't mean that no health expenses of a "reconditioning" sort are deductible. If a doctor signs a statement that a trip to a sunny climate is vital to mend a broken bone or ease the strain on an ailing heart, the IRS takes a different attitude.

What the agency wants to make plain, evidently, is that come April 15 you can't write off last year's suntan.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

Young lovers had better be prepared for some unpleasant news. It seems that we have all been deceived. Two cannot—repeat, not—live as cheaply as one.

These dismal tidings have been put forth by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which can scarcely be accused of wishing to blight matrimonial hopes. Not only can two not live as cheaply as one, reports the USDA, it costs them more than twice as much to get along.

A single person living alone, the Department says, consumes $11.17 worth of food per week. Let the single person merge with another, and the food bill goes up to an average of $23.56 per week. The average food bill for a family of three is $31.73. It goes up to $37.49 for a family of four.

These figures are for people living in cities and towns. The intimation is that living in the country would lower the food bill somewhat. But, Young Lovers, take note: "Two can live as cheaply as one" is a snare and a delusion.

WOMAN'S PLACE

An authority on big business reports that when it comes to selecting men for responsible positions modern firms not only consider their qualifications but also appraise the merits of their wives.

A woman's efficiency as a household manager, this authority says, "has a direct bearing on the quality of her husband's work." It seems that now, more than ever, a man's success stems in considerable measure from the success of a husband and wife partnership.

"These Days"

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
IS FOREIGN AID USEFUL?

Hans Christian Sonne, Chairman of the National Planning Association which has made a study of foreign aid, has reported to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that:

"If your committee's review of the foreign aid program leads to the conclusion that it is useful for attaining our international objective, I believe the program should be continued at the present or an expanded rate, irrespective of the relatively minor effects on the domestic economy."

Two questions arise out of this paragraph: 1. Has our foreign aid program been useful? What has it done for the United States? Precisely what political and economic benefits have accrued to the United States from it?

2. Is our present inflationary condition to be regarded as a "relatively minor effect on the domestic economy"? More paper money is being circulated now than during the period 1933-1952. The ratio of our gold stock to our non-gold money is the lowest of yearly ratios since 1932. Is this to be considered a "relatively minor effect on the domestic economy"?

The argument that foreign aid is only a small part of the total economy seems to me fatuous. The fact is that government expenditures of all kinds are now so high that the people are actually suffering from excessive taxation. The Hoover Commission believes that it can cut those expenditures by $4 to $5 billion, but nothing has been done about it thus far. When foreign aid is a dumping proposition to a great extent, it could be justified in a measure as a subsidy to industry, labor and agriculture while making some friends perhaps in Europe.

Today, the problem is economy, not the expansion of expenditures.

Sonne's report says: "If the United States were to double the present size of the foreign aid program (to $8.2 billion a year) by 1965, and assuming a gross national production level by then of $565 billion (in 1955 prices), there would be little additional impact on the United States economy."

The fallacy in this paragraph is the reference to 1955 prices which has nothing to do with the question. What does matter is what kind of dollars we are using, 50 cent dollars, or 35 cent dollars, or what. Sonne apparently disregards inflation altogether and pays no attention at all to the fact that individual debt has risen in this country to a point which all economists except the Keynesians regard as unwarranted and unsafe.

These days there is much talk in money markets of the raiders who use European or Canadian money to take over American companies, particularly those engaged in war industries. The scale on which the raids are taking place is now being defined by two Senate committees, the SEC, and other government agencies, but thus far not enough data is available to establish any special reason for this activity, other than that money flows to a safe and profitable market. Should not the investigations deal with the question of the draining of the reservoirs of private capital in this country? If interest rates are lower in one country than another or if money is taxed less in one country than another, borrowers seek the most advantageous market for money.

It is possible that those who borrow in Switzerland or Venezuela or who get tax-free arrangements in Liberia or Nassau are pursuing the ordinary course of private enterprise. The peril is that the beneficial owner of the securities or the rightful owner of the anonymous money employed may be an alien enemy of the United States.

It is impossible to study the full effects upon our economy of foreign aid without analyzing this particular phenomenon, namely, to what extent is the American reservoir of capital drying up because of the increasing individual indebtedness of Americans and the enormous bite that taxes take out of the individual's earnings.

Sonne's report also states: "If the countries in need of foreign aid had to increase their own exports sufficiently to pay for all the goods and services they urgently need, they would probably have resorted to forcing or subsidizing exports, with possible disruptive influences on world trade and on competitive conditions within United States industry."

Does this mean that foreign aid must last forever so that we can keep foreign subsidized goods out of our market? Why not use a high tariff? (Copyright, 1957, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

NASALPLASTY

Yesterday we were discussing plastic surgery on the nose and today I would like to pass on a few more details concerning it. As we have said, the real danger is that the patient may get a preconceived notion of how his appearance will be changed and perhaps how he will succeed in social life where he formerly failed.

The operation itself is performed under local novocaine anesthesia. The incisions are made within the nostrils so that no scar will be visible after surgery. The skin is undermined so as to separate it throughout the entire extent of the nose from the underlying cartilage and bone. Working under the loose and detached skin, the surgeon carefully cuts away or files away excess bone and cartilage, thus reshaping the nose. Special instruments are used to cut off a lump, to remove part of the cartilage of the tip, and to narrow the bridge.

If the nose is twisted or deviated (crooked) septum is present, the mucous membrane lining of the septum (partition down the middle of the nose) is separated from its underlying cartilage and bone. Ridges, spurs, and excess bone and cartilage are then removed from beneath these mucous membrane flaps. If there is a saddle nose with a marked defect, a carefully shaped cartilage or bone graft is taken and is inserted. Small defects can be filled in by taking some of the excess bone from the bridge of the nose and sliding it down so that it occupies the depressed region.

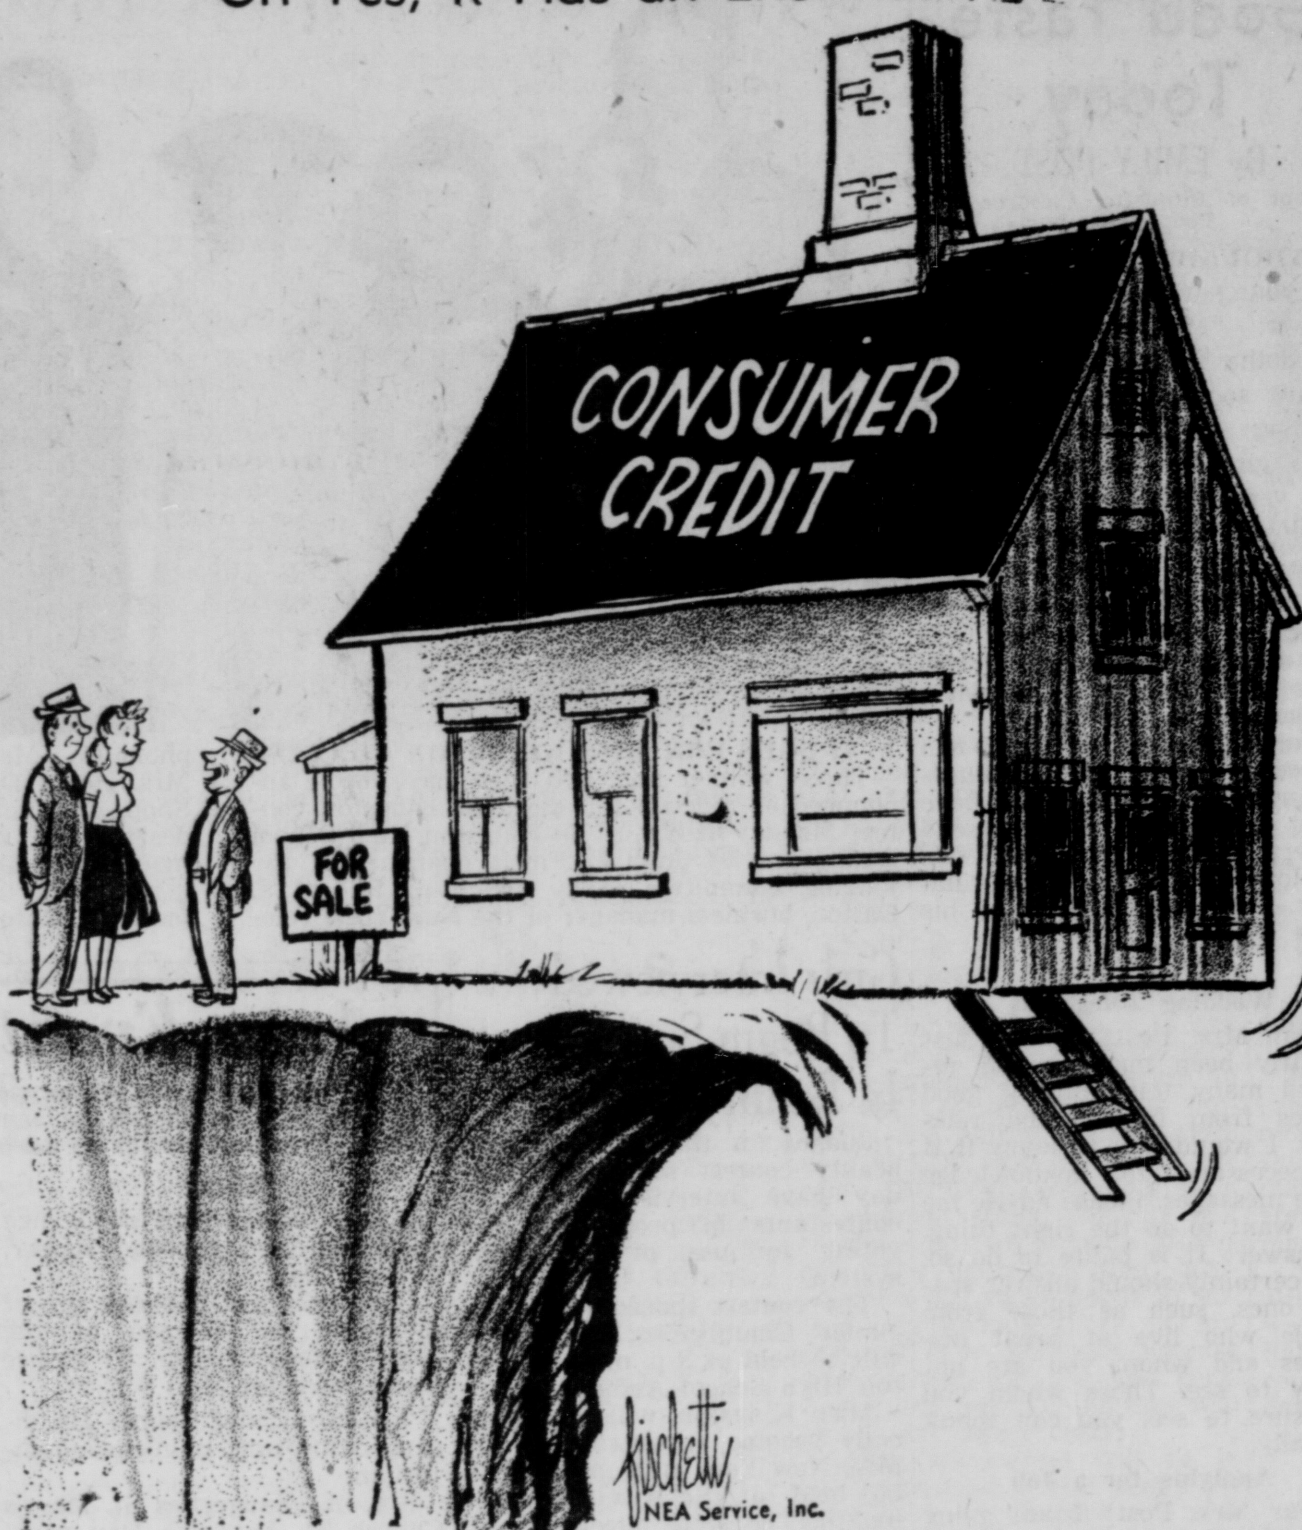

At the conclusion of any of these operations, the surgeon has a fairly good picture of the end result. The portion of skin between the nostrils is sutured in such a way as to elevate the tip slightly above the desired final position. This is done to allow for the slight drooping of the tip that will follow contracture of the scar in the septum. A piece of gauze is placed over the nose and a snug-fitting splint is applied. This is kept in place for a few days to maintain the new shape and to make sure that the loosened skin becomes adherent again to the underlying bone and cartilage. Small gauze packs are put in the nostrils to control bleeding and to protect the operative field from dust and dirt.

There is relatively little pain from these operations and such slight pain as there is persists for a day or two only. There is usually swelling of the nose and eyes with blue-black discoloration for several days after operation and there is considerable swelling which may last for several weeks. Antibiotics are given to prevent infection. The patient is usually able to get out of bed the day after operation and to go home after three or four days. The nose is bandaged for about four or five days after operation. Normal breathing through the nose is usually possible from a week to ten days. The nose does not change shape in a period of years after operation. Whatever shape is present four to five months after surgery will be the permanent shape.

Results are good in practically all cases. If the result is not satisfactory a plastic operation can be done again. This re-operation may be necessary if so much scar tissue forms that it produces defects which should be corrected.

to sell and those who want to buy, and it does it in an economical manner.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—Forty years ago this month the Russian revolution began with a riot for more bread in Petrograd. This was the first revolution, that overthrew the Czar. It was a revolt of moderate socialists and liberals.

Lenin was in exile in Switzerland at the time. Trotsky was in New York and Stalin was in the fourth year of Siberian prison camp.

Their leadership of the second, counter-revolution to overthrow the provisional, democratic government set up under Alexander Kerensky, was eight months later.

In this period, from now until the later anniversary on Nov. 7, people will be reading and writing and expiring a great deal about the past four decades of Russian communism.

A PERIOD OF 40 YEARS isn't a long time in history. Anyone who was an adult in World War I can remember the Russian revolutions.

There are old Bolsheviks who took part in them who are still alive and in power. All of them operate as though they believe they are the real leaders of the masses and have their full support.

But the third generation is now growing up under communism. Today, what is considered the most significant fact about the Russian revolution of 40 years ago is that it has not produced a new Soviet man.

Basically, say those who are closest observers of the Russian scene, the Russian people still have the same old Russian mind with the same old Russian prejudices.

March 16, 1937—Charlie Bock, with 159 points scored, was high man in the DUSO Basketball League.

Plans were in progress for the official start of work on the Lackawanna water works project. Local volunteer fire companies met at Central Fire Station, to discuss the possibility of inviting the 1958 convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association to Kingston.

March 16, 1947—Corporation Counsel Arthur B. Ewig was

They may be sick or bored by communism. They may be privately disillusioned by the lies they have been told about the revolts in East Germany, Poland and Hungary. But the Russians themselves are not considered ready for a third revolution.

SINCE WORLD WAR 2 much has been made of Russia's technical and educational advances. It has been assumed from this that the more educated Russians would soon be ready to overthrow their Communist masters.

Two facts are said to make this unlikely. The first is the rigid discipline in the state-controlled Soviet educational system. People need jobs to live. Students who do not submit to Communist discipline can be thrown out of the universities and their means of livelihood destroyed. That keeps down intellectual revolt.

Also, higher education in itself is not a guarantee of revolt against oppression. It is recalled that the Germans of the 1930's were as highly educated as any people in Europe. In spite of it, they followed Hitler and submitted to Nazi dictatorship.

Ideas that communism has been changing—particularly since the death of Stalin—are now seen to be based more on hope than on reality. There was no de-Stalinization following the Khrushchev speech to the Party Congress a year ago—and there has been no re-Stalinization since, say Russian analysts.

THERE HAVE BEEN certain internal changes within the USSR. The newly announced program to decentralize control of raw materials and industrial production is considered of utmost importance. It is taken to mean that the Russian leaders

St. Patrick's Day

The Patron Saint of Ireland Was born in Scotland fair Near the modern town of Dunbarton So was captured Scottish there

He was baptized some pirates This sunny sixteen year old lad To tend the flocks of a chieftain in Ireland, then a heathen land

It didn't take him long to see The misery of the land And so became the "Patron Saint" Of Ireland's weary band

So the Shamrock will grow forever As long as Ireland is there And "The Wearing of the Green" Will last With the lads and lassies fair

So let us all be happy With the Irish here and there We like their brogue We like their wit We want their joy to share.

Author SOPHIE SCHMIDTKONZ

are beginning to learn they cannot control everything from Moscow.

Internationally, communism is considered just what it was under Stalin. Its greatest problem today is seen as Eastern Europe, where there is a different situation in every country—Poland, Hungary, Yugoslavia and East Germany.

It was only when the Russians began to relax a little in "the new spirit of Geneva" that they got trouble in Poland and Hungary. Now they have reimposed full Stalinist control in Hungary and the Russian army remains in Poland under the Warsaw pact.

These are the developments that lead historians of Russian communism to the conclusion that no easy solutions will be found to its problems, and that the West will have to continue to live with it, as it has in the past 50 years.

March, 1957

Editor, The Freeman,
I just came back from the Public Library here in town. I've been going there pretty regularly for 20 years.

Today I looked around and realized how unchanged the Library has been all these years. There are loads of new books and they are crammed in all the nooks and corners. The past few years have seen our town expand in population, our schools are growing and our city is growing too.

Why hasn't anyone done something to modernize and expand our poor old library? Our children need a big modern library to encourage them to read and keep up with this changing modern scientific world that everyone is talking about.

We should be proud of the dedicated work of our librarians and help our library to reach the standard of which our city will be proud.

I would be glad to work in any way with any group of civic-minded citizens or organizations for this good purpose.

Sincerely
IDA WEINSTEIN

'The Beamer' Nice for Big Family

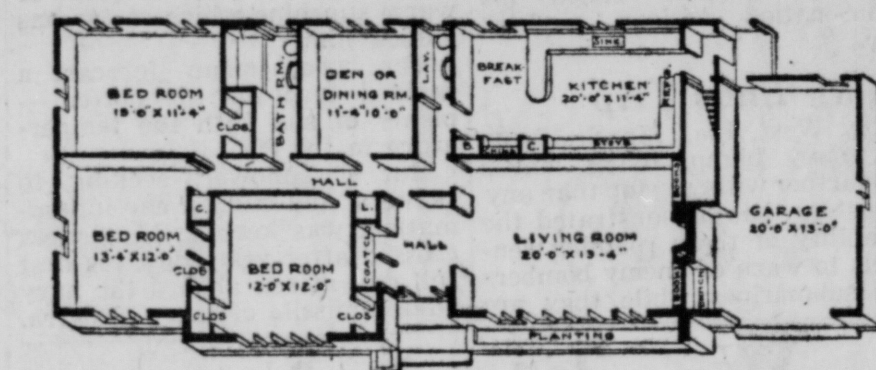

Introduced today by the Home of the Week Plan Service "The Beamer" is a very attractive one-story house that is ideally suited to a combination finish.

The planting area—suggested in front of the living room—offers you the opportunity to give a somewhat different and distinctive touch to the house exterior. This planting area gives you full opportunity to exercise your ingenuity. When selecting the plantings for this area remember that the work and thought you put into planting and caring for this area will bring you double benefits because the large picture window in the living room will bring the beauty right inside the house.

Dimensions

While the house proper measures 57 by 26 feet with garage frontal length is 72 feet. Cubage of the house is 30,800 feet; garage cubage is 6000 feet. You'll need approximately a 100-foot lot on which to build this house.

Because this plan includes three regular bedrooms—and features an optional purpose room which can be used as a bedroom if necessary—it is ideally suited to a large family. However, if you don't need four bedrooms this optional purpose room can serve as a dining room den or guest room with equal ease.

Folks who decide they don't require a dining room proper will find the large pleasant living room admirably suited to double usage. This room is conveniently near to the kitchen, too, making it that much easier for the lady of the house to serve meals there.

Roomy, Pleasant
Roomy and pleasant, the breakfast area can be used for a majority of your family's meals. The kitchen proper—which covers an area considerably larger than that allotted for kitchen space in many of today's homes—is carefully planned for convenience and comfort.

Typical of the careful planning that has gone into designing this home is the inclusion of both a lavatory and a bath. The presence of plenty of centrally located closet space is another modern home planning feature certain to win approval from prospective builders.

Both the heater and the laundry must be installed in the basement of this house. The former should be placed under the living room and the latter under the kitchen or bath. Bulkheads should be installed for safety and convenience.

Blueprints Available
Complete plans for this home are available. Address requests (mentioning name of home) to Home of the Week, Inc., Dept. KF, 87 Weybosset street, Providence, R. I.

Bedding Petunias Need Little Care

For an annual flower that will give a continuous display of flowers in a wide range of colors from mid-summer until frost, bedding petunias are highly satisfactory. They are easy to grow, need little attention and do well under a wide range of climatic and soil conditions. Good drainage is important, however, and the location should be a sunny one.

They take their place among the most drought-resistant annuals and need little nourishment. In fact, a rather lean soil gives the best flower display, while an abundance of plant food encourages formation of foliage rather than blooms.

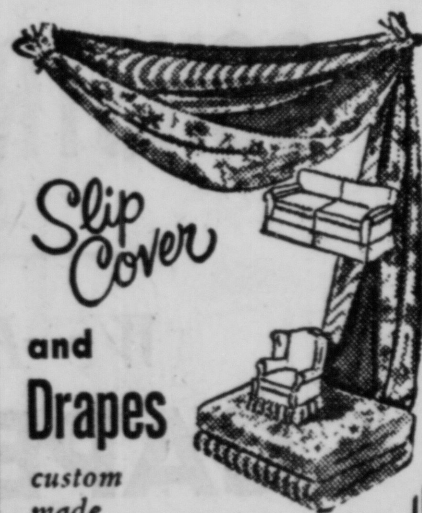

For best results, thin to stand not less than six inches apart in the row. Beware of selecting the largest plants to remain in the row, as this may curtail the number of colors. Some varieties are more vigorous in the seedling stage than others. A good mixture will provide a great range of colors, starting with pure white and running through shades of pink and blue to red and purple. There also are varieties with variegated blooms, such as pink and white and blue and white, which add special interest to the display.

Neat Way to Clip Magazine Pages

An easy and neat way to clip pages from magazines or newspapers for filing or future reference is to back up the page to be cut with a sheet of galvanized iron. It is then cut with a razor blade or other sharp edge.

The zinc surface of the galvanized iron is not hard enough to dull the edge of the knife, but it does back up the paper so firmly that a clean, true cut results.

High Wall Cabinets
Kitchen wall cabinets that are too high from the floor not only cause extra strain but may create accident hazards because the housewife must either stand on tiptoe or mount a chair to reach them. A space of 15 inches between base and wall cabinets is adequate—consider remodeling your cabinets if it is much greater.

Leaky Faucet Wastes 192 Gallons Monthly

How much water does a leaky faucet leak, and how much does it cost? Here's the answer, according to a plumbing concern.

A 60-drop-a-minute leak wastes 192 gallons a month. If it's hot water that's dripping away, 480 cubic feet of gas will have been consumed in heating the wasted water. Figure this against your local gas rate, to find out how much it costs.

Ninety drops a minute waste 310 gallons a month and consume 775 cubic feet of gas. One hundred and twenty drops a minute waste 429 gallons with extra gas consumption of 1,073 cubic feet.

Linen Shelves In Small Homes

Linen shelves in many of today's small homes are too few, too short, too deep and too far apart for convenience. But even this meager and poorly arranged storage space can be stretched.

For instance, when shelves are far apart, usually there is plenty of room between for half shelves. These can be fastened at the back or along sides of the closet where they do not interfere with the visibility of linens on deep shelves.

"Little linens"—pillowcases, napkins, washcloths, dish towels, dish cloths, potholders—will fit on a half shelf just 8 inches deep. On shelves this shallow linens are in a single row so they are easy to see, and easy to get in and out of storage.

If you must use deep shelves, try double-row storage. Everyday articles can conveniently go in front, giving a back seat to out-of-season reserve, seldom-used, or guest supplies.

This may discourage the family from grabbing "Sunday best" linens for daily use.

Compact folds are easy to handle, use more vertical height and less shelf space. Clearance space or about three inches at the top of the stacks makes it easier to get linens on and off shelves.

Rolling small articles such as doilies, dresser scarves, and table mats on tubes for storage takes time and patience, but prevents creases and utilizes deep, narrow shelf space.

Bulbs Will Do Better If Rain Water Is Used

Where bulbs like paper white narcissus, Chinese sacred lily and hyacinths are to be grown in water-filled containers rain water is greatly preferred to that supplied by the local water works or even that taken from a well. City water is the least desirable because so often it is chemically treated. Where rain water cannot be collected in a barrel connected with a roof gutter and drain spout a large open vessel may be kept outdoors to be emptied after every rain. Such water also is much better for all kinds of house plants.

Counter Space Is Important

The exact amount of counter space in a kitchen obviously is determined by the size of the room and the number of base cabinets chosen. But where the counter surfaces are located in relation to the work they normally will be subjected to play an important part in the overall efficiency of the kitchen. Consequently, planning for convenient counter arrangements is nearly as vital to a new kitchen as having sufficient storage facilities.

Whether the room is small or large, ample counter space should be allowed near each of the various work centers, home economists say. Near the sink you need plenty of free surface on both sides, if possible, for stacking dishes as well as for cleaning and preparing foods, such as vegetables. Ideally, the refrigerator should have a minimum of 8 inches of counter top for setting out supplies. The range requires approximately 24 inches for serving and resting hot pans. In the food mixing and preparation area it is best to allow at least 36 inches of counter surface according to the experts.

Spotting Outlets In New Home

If you are about to build a house, many planning experts suggest that you spot plenty of convenience outlets throughout the home.

Place them so no point along a usable wall area, unbroken by a doorway, is more than six feet from an outlet. Convenience outlets in the kitchen require even closer spacing, approximately four feet apart.

Remember that special purpose outlets are needed for the range, dishwasher and food waste disposer, water heater, clothes washer and dryer, kitchen clock and ventilating fan, furnace and bathroom heater.

Tips on Enlarging Your Storage Space

One of the simplest and handiest ways for getting additional storage space in even the most crowded home is to build a cabinet on the back of a door. This can be a closet door or any ordinary door in the house where one side is not too much exposed to general view. See to it that the cabinet clears the door frame and the floor.

For Porch Floors

Porch floors are subjected to excessive wear and all kinds of weather. Special exterior floor paints are manufactured to give the greatest amount of service possible. Cement porch floors, if they haven't been painted before, should first be primed with a special cement primer, then finished with rapid-drying cement floor paint.

Fireplace in Summer

To make the inside of your fireplace look clean and attractive during the summer months, scrape off the soot and apply a coat of cement base water paint in white, pale gray or a more colorful tone—a rosy terra cotta, for instance. If the soot streaks the first coat, apply a second one.

Lends Colonial Touch

Use unpainted natural finish pine cupboards with large black H-hinges to put colonial atmosphere into the kitchen. Build a board-and-batten outside entrance door with Z-shaped cross-bracing to further carry out the colonial theme.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Howard C. Shurter, county director Veterans' Service Agency, and William Hartman, state veteran counselor NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, submit another in a series of articles on rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen and their dependents:

Education—Veterans whose education or training is interrupted because they had to go back into military service are permitted to resume their interrupted courses after their discharge even though the date by which they must start their programs has passed. An interruption in education or training of longer than 12 months after their delimiting date which is caused by the return of veterans to active military service will be considered to have been caused by reason beyond their control. Veterans in this category, therefore, will be permitted to resume training but they must do so at the earliest practical date after separation. For example, a veteran enrolled in an educational institution who was recalled to active duty on January 6, 1956 expects to be discharged on January 5, 1960. Under normal circumstances, he would not be eligible for continued GI educational benefits after such an excessive interruption of training. However, due to the fact that he was recalled to active duty, he would be eligible to resume his education under the GI Bill after his discharge.

Bonds—Veterans who have not received United States war bonds which they purchased through allotment while in military service should contact the Division of Loans and Currency, United States Treasury Department, 536 South Clark street, Chicago 25, Illinois.

Taxes—Persons retired for disability may have all or part of their retired pay exempted from federal income tax. Disability retirement pay which is computed by multiplying retired pay by their percentage of disability by their basic pay is exempt from such a tax. However, in those cases where disability retirement pay is computed on the basis of length of service, that part of retired pay which is in excess of the amount which would have been received if computed on a percentage basis is subject to federal income tax.

Pensions—Some veterans are qualified for two different benefits from the Veterans Administration, for example, non-service-connected pension and service-connected compensation. In such cases, they have the right to elect to receive the greater benefit but they cannot receive both benefits at the same time. This rule refers to benefits based on their own period of active military duty. Veterans who are receiving service-connected compensation, for instance, may elect to take non-service-connected pension if it is a higher payment and they are qualified for it. In cases where the status of veterans change in later years and they become eligible for a higher rating on a service-connected condition they can withdraw their selection of non-service-connected pension and request the service-connected compensation if it would result in a higher payment for them.

Insurance—The Insurance Service should be notified immediately of the change of address of any insured person. There is a place on the National Service Life Insurance premium payment envelope which can be used as an official change of address form. The new address should be typed or printed in this place on the envelope and the insured should sign his name in the space provided.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention at the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 32 Main street, Kingston.

Chipped Plaster

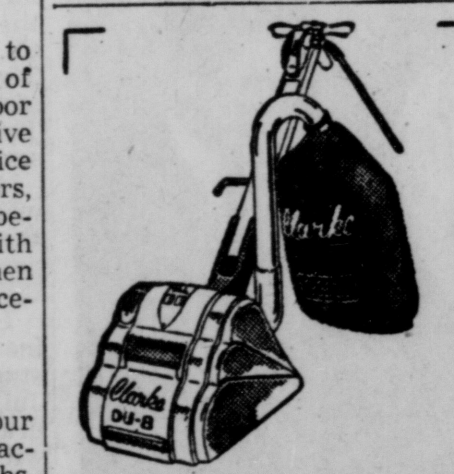

When a chip gets knocked out of a plaster wall, the thing to use to patch it is spackle. Patching plaster is fine for larger jobs but it's a little too coarse for fine patching.

Placing Sockets

Wall sockets should be placed between 12 and 18 inches above the floor, except in kitchen, laundry, bathroom and garage, where they should be 48 inches above the floor.

Don't Rush the Job

Just to be on the safe side, allow a freshly varnished floor to dry for about two weeks before you apply wax.

Management Keglers Capture KBA Team Title With 3192

Herrick's 700 Spearheads Team In Final Action Singles, Doubles Events Open Tonight

Management of the Electro League blasted a sizzling 3192 to capture first place in the team division of the Kingston Bowling Association last night at the Bowlerama.

The Management keglers displaced United Pharmacy (3137) at the top of the heap in the last evening of the 104-team field roll-off to gain the unofficial top prize.

Singles and doubles events take over the spotlight starting tonight and continuing tomorrow (Sunday) at the Central Recreation.

Management trundlers amassed their score on slams of 1013, 1083 and 1096. Anchor Ray Herrick fired them with a rousing net series of 647 on games of 210, 227 and 210. With handicap, he finished with a nifty gross series of 700.

United Pharmacy wound up in second place ahead of Rotron Smashers (3129). P. Ballantine & Sons of the Ferraro Classic vaulted into fourth on the strength of a 3104 last evening. Alpine (3097) slipped to fifth.

Alpine won the team net with 2948.

Among the individuals, Joe Russo's 256 stood up as the best individual net single. Larry Petersen's 674 net triple and Ed Koskie's 718 gross triple also held up for top prizes.

Management's individual gross totals were: Hugh Burke 685, Ben Toffel 608, Ed Bover 601 and William Short 598.

Chestnut Wins Over Cadilli In Garden Bout

New York, March 16 (AP)—"Who's this Hogan Bassey anyway," wailed little Ike Chestnut, still hopeful of crashing in to the featherweight elimination boxing tournament opening next week.

The 26-year-old New Yorker had just beaten California's Gilly Cadilli by unanimous decision in a television bout at Madison Square Garden last night.

"They got this guy Bassey or Count Basie or whatever you call him in the tournament and nobody here has ever seen him or knows what he can do," said Ike. "Why don't they let him fight me for the chance. I'd be more than happy to take him on."

Unless Bassey, the British Empire 126-pound champion from Nigeria gets upset by Percy Lewis in a Empire title defense in England, April 1, Chestnut probably doesn't stand much of a chance of breaking into the tournament set up by the World Boxing Committee and the NBA.

Tourney Opens Friday
The tourney to determine a successor to retired Sandy Saddler gets under way next Friday in the Garden with Puerto Rico's Miguel Berrios facing Brooklyn's Carmelo Costa. The winner is scheduled to take on Bassey with the semifinal victor scheduled to meet France's Cherif Hamia, the European champion, for the title.

Chestnut, who stopped Costa in eight rounds, currently is unranked. Cadilli, who beat Berrios on Jan. 16, is ranked 10th by the NBA and fifth by Ring Magazine.

A quick start enabled Chestnut to even his score with Cadilli. The 25-year-old Californian had edged Ike by a single point in their first clash in Houston last Oct. 30.

The officials voted for Chestnut this way: Judge Frank Forbes, 6-3-1; Judge Bert Grant, 6-4; and Referee Mark Conn, 5-4-1. The Associated Press had Chestnut ahead, 6-4.

Each fighter weighed 129½.

Royals Up For Sale

Rochester, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—The Rochester Royals of the National Basketball Assn. are for sale, but that appears to be the only certainty about the club's future at the moment.

A report that the club would be moved to Cincinnati next winter was leaked "a complete distortion of fact" yesterday by one of the Harrison brothers, the owners of the club.

Jack Harrison said, however, that Cincinnati was "high on the list" of prospects for the club's future home. He said that several possibilities were being explored.

Harrison made the statements in commenting on a report published in the Cincinnati Times Star. The newspaper said the Harrison would bring the club there next season without aid of investors in that city.

Les Harrison, president of the Royals, said earlier in the week that the club's franchise was for sale for $240,000. He said, however, he would take less if the buyer was from Rochester.

Les said he would be unable to keep the Royals in Rochester because the club lost $140,000 there in the past five years.

Rochester wound up in last place in the NBA's Western Division this year.

Promise of Probe Stalls Bolt of Upper Esopus Club

A complete investigation promised by the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster county Thursday night at Wawarsing Sportsmen's Association clubhouse, Honk Lake, Napanoch, forestalled the threatened bolt of the Upper Esopus Fish and Game Club from the county group.

A committee appointed at the February meeting at Saugerties reported that they had attended the Upper Esopus Club's meeting Wednesday night and had received a letter listing grievances and seeking the aid of the Federation in solving poor trout stocking problems.

Carlton B. King, Federation president, who headed the committee, said the Upper Esopus Club complained about not getting enough trout for planting in its area streams.

Committee Appointed

President King appointed a special fish committee including Chester Joy, Herbert Poust and John McGrath, who with other members were directed to make a survey of the grievances and conditions and to bring back to the next Federation meeting a list of recommendations.

A change in the Federation by-laws was adopted unanimously which would permit only elected officers and two elected delegates from each member club, to vote for his club at Federation meetings.

On the question of how to use the $1,000 fund received from the enabling act through the Ulster County Board of Supervisors, both Saugerties Fish and Game Club and Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club recommended that the fund be used for stream improvement.

President King appointed a committee to survey the stream improvement proposal and a vote was scheduled for the next Federation meeting Thursday, April 11 at West Park. Upper Esopus and the Esopus Clubs will be hosts.

Funds Used for Stocking
The funds were previously used for stocking fish and game. A nominating committee was appointed to draw up a slate of officers for the annual election in May. Robert Sandy of Lloyd was appointed chairman.

The group voted to send a boy to DeBruce Conservation Camp on the Willowemoc near Liberty for one week with all expenses paid. Drawn by lot, West Esopus Club received first choice of naming a boy and Mr. Tobias Club received the second choice.

The membership application of Plutarch Sportsmen's Club of Lloyd was accepted. Plutarch Club has over 100 members and according to the report given at the meeting much of the area in their jurisdiction is predominantly deer hunting grounds. The club has over 3,000 acres posted. Permission of the owners is required before hunting is permitted.

24 Clubs Present
Twenty-four clubs out of 34 members were represented.

After considerable discussion on the pistol permit question, Walter B. Pettigrew, president of Saugerties Fish and Game Club suggested that adoption of a resolution on the Federation's resolution on pistol permits be held in abeyance until all clubs in the Federation had time to vote on the matter at their individual meetings. The suggestion in the form of a motion was carried unanimously.

Rolling High To Nowhere

Milwaukee, Wis. (NEA)—Alan Alexander, secretary of the Long Beach, Calif., Bowling Association, has relayed as strange a tale as American Bowling Congress headquarters has heard in some time.

Seems Alexander rolled 10 strikes in a league game—yet "I have held this score hidden within my soul," Alexander reported.

How did he do it? Simple. He started off with six strikes, then fouled four straight times. On each foul, he rolled a strike. His score is worse than the hypothetical example of a possible low of 120 with nine strikes—because Alexander's actually happened.

credited with only six strikes, because the other four were fouls.

Newburgh Raps Albany 71-64, To Cop Intersectionals Title

After a five-year wait, the Intersectionals basketball championship is back in the possession of a Section Nine team thanks to Newburgh Free Academy.

The Goldbacks ended the reign of Section Two teams by whipping Albany High, 71-64, before a SRO crowd of more than 2,000 at the field house last night.

Oddly enough, the Goldbacks were the last DUSO League club to capture the crown. Back in 1952, a quintet spearheaded by the incomparable Mickey Burkowski brought them their first title. Last evening's appearance marked the eighth time NFA played for all the marbles.

Albany, which was bidding for its first Intersectionals title, never caught up after John Curry whipped in a one-hander at 1:07 to put the Hill City crew on top, 44-43. NFA kept from four to seven points on top after that until Roy Riley applied the clincher with a three-pointer that boosted the margin to 71-62 with a little more than a minute left.

In the long run it was Newburgh's accuracy from the foul line that paid off. The Garnet outshot the Goldbacks 24-23, but the victors made up the difference at the charity stripe, connecting on a sizzling 25 of 35 attempts to 16 of 29.

19 Fouls Made
Nineteen of the free throws were sunk in the second half spree as Newburgh outscored its victims 49-38. Curry displayed the best marksmanship, making nine of ten tries. Rodney Coleman hit five straight, Dom Roscino three of four and Al Beccacio two of three.

The first half was a ding-dong affair, particularly the opening period. The score was tied five times before Coleman's bucket brought NFA a 12-10 margin. Albany grabbed the lead at 14-12, outshot of the second period 14-12, on Paul Ellenbogen's driving layup and held onto it through the rest of the session and led at intermission 26-20.

Newburgh, as usual, won behind a balanced scoring attack. Curry was the pace-setter with 15, Coleman made 14, Riley 13, Pat Cerone 10 and Bill Cotton and Beccacio each 8. Dom Roscino's 3 points completes the scoring.

Holt High
George Holt, a spring-legged six-footer, paced both sides with 17 before fouling out near the end. Dan Cohan, a rugged rebounder, contributed 15 and Cuyler Jeffress 10.

Alex Sokaris, Albany's top point-pourer, was checked and held to 8. The set-shot whiz, who averaged 20-plus points this year, drew three quick fouls in the first quarter and had to be lifted. He didn't get hot until the final chukker when he pumped in three of his specialties, but by that time the issue was settled.

NFA, which also is the DUSO League champions, finished the season with a 15-6 record. Albany's final mark is 12-3.

Carol Heiss Completes Sweep Of Skating Honors

Berkeley, Calif., March 16 (AP)—Blonde scholgirl Carol Heiss today has completed her triple sweep of figure skating titles with Collegiate Dave Jenkins expected to win his third major crown of the year tonight in the national championships.

The vivacious 17-year-old from Ozone Park, N. Y., completely outclassed her field last night to add the United States laurels to the 1957 North American and world crowns she previously won.

"I was more relaxed than during the world competition," the 105-pound champion commented with her usual smile after completing the whirling, acrobatic series of jumps, turns and spins set to music.

Clad in a turquoise blue costume with a bright sequin crown, the poised teenager skated with near perfection at East Bay Ice-land here to take the first place vote from each of the five judges by a wide margin.

One gave her 9.8 on contents of her program and 9.9 on performance with a grade of 10 considered perfect. She received no mark of less than 9.4. None of the other skaters received any marks higher than 9.3. Carol scored 1,700.54 out of a possible 1,880 points.

Second place went to another 17-year-old high school girl, Joan Schenke, of Tacoma, Wash., with 1,602.7 points.

Farm Union Urges Passage of Bill on Marking Apples

The Ulster County Farmers Union is urging passage of a bill to require branding of all closed packs of apples to show the state in which the fruit was grown.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock introduced the bill "to stem the flood of inferior grade apples entering the New York market with no indication that they were not New York apples."

The Farmers Union proposed it just prior to the start of the 1957 legislative session.

According to the farmers "These apples, repacked in local cold storage houses, are being pushed out in most cases ahead of locally grown top grade apples."

They also complain that the practice has "slowed the normal movement of local apples to market in addition to seriously depressing prices."

The Assembly passed the bill which went to the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Warmer Weather Due for Midwest

(By The Associated Press)

Skies cleared and winds diminished in most of the storm-stricken areas of the midwest today and warmer weather appeared on the way.

Mostly fair weather prevailed from the Rockies eastward to the Atlantic coast, although there were a few spots reporting snow flurries and showers. West of the Rockies, skies were cloudy and snow flurries and showers hit scattered areas.

Storm Subsides

The vigorous storm center north of Lake Superior moved northeastward during the night and the gale-like winds which lashed many midwest areas Thursday and yesterday subsided. Winds up to 65 mph were reported in some areas yesterday. Earlier, blizzards hit Minnesota and sections of Iowa and the Dakotas. Snowfalls ranged up to more than a foot in many Minnesota cities, with 10-foot drifts reported in some areas. Several communities were snow-bound and some 200 schools were closed yesterday.

Only snow flurries fell today in upper and lower Michigan and extreme northeastern Minnesota. Blowing dust restricted visibility in a few places in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Colder in East

Generally colder weather was reported east of the Mississippi river. Lowest temperatures were in the storm belt but the chilly air extended into the lower Great Lakes region and Ohio Valley and as far south as northern Alabama and Mississippi. Readings ranged from below freezing in the north central region to the 60s in the extreme south.

A rattlesnake's top speed is about 3 miles per hour, no faster than a man can walk.

Returning Stateside

RICHARD A. STANLEY, seaman, USN, son of Mrs. H. T. Lebert of Route 1, Kingston, is scheduled to arrive at Norfolk, Va., March 20, aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Boston from a four-month cruise in the Mediterranean.

Ouch!

Warren, Ohio (AP)—Police said an 18-year-old ice skater here may be eating off the mantle until long after the ice melts. The youth told the emergency squad he was skating when he slipped and fell in a sitting position. Unfortunately, his skates were between the ice and his rear quarters. Thirteen stitches, police reported.

Bill Would Give Practical Nurses More Recognition

Registered professional nurses and licensed practical nurses in New York state have reached agreement on the method by which all those who nurse for hire in this state will have a voice and vote in matters governing the practice of nursing in New York state.

A bill was introduced in the Legislature, Wednesday, Feb. 6, by Senator Earl W. Brydges of Niagara Falls and by Assemblyman Malcolm Wilson of Yonkers (A-Intro. 2022) to increase the number of members of the Board of Examiners of Nurses to 15. This bill provides that 11 of the 15 members shall be registered professional nurses and four members shall be licensed practical nurses.

The licensed practical nurse members of the board shall not serve in matters relating exclusively to the education, qualification, examination, licensure, registration, practice and discipline of registered professional nurses. According to the terms of the bill, if a complaint is made against a licensed practical nurse, at least one member of the committee which hears the complaint shall be a licensed practical nurse member of the board. Heretofore, practical nurse representatives were admitted to disciplinary hearings only with the consent of the person against whom the complaint was lodged.

At present the New York State Board of Examiners of Nurses is composed of nine registered professional nurses.

Had No Vote
In March 1954, the Board of Regents created the Practical Nurse Advisory Council to the Board of Examiners of Nurses. This council gave practical nurses an opportunity to voice their opinions on matters relating to practical nursing. However, the council did not provide practical nurses with a vote on these matters.

The New York State Nurses Association and the Practical Nurses of New York, Inc., spokesmen for registered professional nurses and licensed practical nurses respectively, met several times during the past year to determine how best to compromise differences of opinion and to seek solutions to mutual problems which affect not only the nurses themselves but the public whom they serve.

Two Groups for Bill
The two organizations sought and received the assistance of the New York State Education Department in solving these differences.

Today the two organizations which represent practitioners of nursing in this state, jointly endorse and urge passage of this legislation designed to maintain high standards of nursing practice in this state.

Sawyer Benefit Show to Offer Array of Talent

The "Sawyer Spectacular" to be held Friday, March 22 at 8 p. m. in Saugerties Main Street School auditorium will present a number of talented artists.

The spectacular is a benefit show for Saugerties Central High School yearbook. The program will consist of a classical and semi-classical musical selections and a mono-drama.

One of the participants is Mrs. George Werner who will give a dramatic reading entitled "The Selfish Giant" by Oscar Wilde. Mrs. Werner trained at Bradley University, with Hope Summers in Chicago, and at the Beaux Arts in New York City. She engaged in radio work for one year, and has made over 2,000 personal appearances in the United States.

Mrs. Herman K. Knaust studied voice at the Potsdam State Teachers College and at the Frank La Forge Studios in New York City. She has done extensive singing in Kingston, her native city, and the surrounding area. Her selections are: "Think Of Me" by Scott and the aria "One Fine Day" from "Madame Butterfly" by Puccini.

She is a soloist and member of the senior choir at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp and serves as choir director for the church.

Mrs. Roland Tonnese, pianist studied piano and organ in Germany and Paris under private teachers. She has her own music studio in Mt. Marion. Mrs. Tonnese will play "Un Sospiro" by Franz Liszt and "Polonaise in A Flat Major" by Frederic Chopin.

Miss Mildred Brady, violinist, has studied violin since the age of six. She was awarded a scholarship to McMurry College, and holds a Master's Degree in music from the State University Teachers College at Fredonia. She has played with the Jamestown Civic Orchestra, the St. Bonaventure Symphony, the Alfred University Orchestra, the Oneonta Civic Orchestra, and the Amherst Symphony Orchestra. Miss Brady's violin selections include "Adoration" by Felix Borowski and "Hummingbird" by Drdla.

Nothing astonishes people nowadays as much as good common sense.

Varied Program Is Camp Wendy Aim; To Open June 30

Plans are underway on a varied program at Camp Wendy this summer for Girl Scouts of Ulster county, other areas and non-scouts who will vacation there.

The camp, owned and operated by the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc., is situated in a beautiful setting in Walkkill near the southern end of the county.

The season starts on June 25 with a pre-camp training session for the staff. Campers arrive on Sunday, June 30 at 2 p. m. There will be three two-week periods. Ernest Ahlberg, camp chairman, has announced that Ulster county girls will be permitted to file registrations after April 15, other girls after April 15.

Highlights of the season will be camping trips to Lake Mohonk and other area places of interest. Wendy has 68 acres of rolling terrain. Lake Louise, its own private lake, is the center of waterfront activities — swimming, boating and canoeing, all under close supervision. Chairman Ahlberg said. There are free swimming lessons.

The six units at Wendy accommodate 90 campers each period. The girls range in age from seven to fourteen. The Brownies sleep in "Tinker Bell" unit, comprised of four cabins. Over the "Wishing Bridge" are the Roman Pioneer tents, which are inhabited by the Intermediate Scouts. The "Jungle" is where the Senior Scouts sleep in Adirondack shelters.

The camp's main building is called "Peter Pan." It contains a kitchen, open air dining room, and a recreation room with fireplace. The other camp buildings house arts and crafts, an infirmary, administration offices and a "trading post."

Saugerties P-TA Slates Meeting On Child Study

Parents and teachers who wish to learn more about the personality development of young children are invited to attend the Saugerties Parent Teacher Association meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the Main Street School auditorium.

During the program a film entitled "Sibling Relations and Personality" will be shown. It explores personality influences and includes studies of differences in siblings.

At the conclusion of the film Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, medical director of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, will give comments on the film and will discuss mental hygiene.

Mrs. Julia Pakanen will act as program chairman, and Mrs. Kenneth Beadle will be hostess.

Calumet Horses Head Entries At Gulfstream

(By The Associated Press)
Calumet Farm wheels out its heavy artillery at Gulfstream Park and Mrs. Jan Burke sends out her best at Bowie in the top events on the national racing program today.

Bardstown and Fabius, Calumet's handicap division aces, head a field of nine in the mile and one-eighth of the Appleton Handicap at Gulfstream. If all nine go postward the race will carry a gross prize of $18,070. The 5-year-old Bardstown, winner of the Widener and Tropical Handicaps under 128 pounds, picks top weight of 130 for this one. Fabius, who beat Needles in last year's Preakness and then easily won the six furlongs of the Armed Handicap on the opening day at Gulfstream, packs 126.

Chief opposition to the Calumet pair is expected to come from the Hasty House Farm entry of Sea O Erin and Platan. They'll carry 114 and 113, respectively.

Judy Garland Suing CBS for $1,393,333
New York, March 16 (AP) — Singer Judy Garland has filed a $1,393,333 breach of contract and libel suit against the Columbia Broadcasting system.

Miss Garland's action, filed yesterday in federal court, said that on Jan. 9 CBS authorized and induced publication of "false and defamatory matter" concerning her in newspapers and other publications.

She charged the network issued such statements as that she "is known for a highly developed inferiority complex," did not "want to work because something is bothering her," and "I don't know but I wouldn't be surprised if she's terribly fat."

CBS said it had no comment on the suit.

Outgoing School Mail Includes Imprinted Motto

Outgoing mail of the Kingston public schools is now imprinted with a small drawing and motto designed by Mrs. Althea Odell of the Kingston High School art department.

The drawing shows a wide street and handsome buildings and homes, attractively landscaped, and carries the motto, "Kingston Schools Build Better Communities."

Robert S. MacDonald, administrative assistant, said the motto was recently attached to the Pitney-Bowes postage stamp machine used by the superintendent's office.

The machine stamps on each envelope a postage imprint. At the same time it also imprints Mrs. Odell's motto and drawing which is about an inch high and two inches long.
